

Pharmacists: Join the independent trade union that is representing pharmacists at Boots

Since 1849

The PDA Union is the only independent trade union exclusively for pharmacists in the UK and exists to represent, defend and support the interests of members either individually or collectively in respect of their terms & conditions in dealing with employers and/or outside organisations.

With more than 31,000 members, the PDA Union is now the largest UK membership organisation in pharmacy. Membership is available to pharmacists, pre-registration pharmacists and pharmacy undergraduates. Pre-registration pharmacists and pharmacy students also benefit from FREE membership.

We are there when our members need us. Our team represents members in disciplinary/grievance hearings at work and in other employment disputes/issues. At Boots we negotiate your pay and speak for all store pharmacists.

The PDA Union represents store and relief pharmacists at Boots. If you are employed in any of these roles at Boots, then we are already working hard on your behalf:

- Store-based Pharmacists;
- Relief Pharmacist;
- Care Services Pharmacist;
- Advanced Practitioner Pharmacist;
- Specialist Practitioner;
- Pre-Registration Pharmacist; and
- Pharmacist Store Manager.

Join us now to support our activities and have your say on our priorities. You can call on our support when you need it. To join, visit: www.the-pda.org/join or call us on 0121 694 7000.

Supporting you on your career journey...

The PDA and the PDA Union are not-for-profit membership organisations with over 31,000 members. We are run by experienced pharmacists, a legal team, and office support staff that are all working to look after the interests of individual pharmacists, pharmacy students and pre-reg trainees.

The PDA Union represents pharmacists at Boots. We negotiate your pay, hours and holiday, help individuals resolve issues at work and discuss issues that matter to pharmacists with the company so that the voice of pharmacists is heard.

If this isn't reason enough to join us, below are some of the key reasons we recommend you take advantage of PDA membership today!

Key PDA member benefits

1. Professional indemnity insurance

PDA members are entitled to up to £10,000,000* worth of indemnity protection in the event of medical malpractice (when someone is harmed through an error that results in bodily or mental injury, sickness, disease or death). This is designed to provide our members with:

- The cost of legal representation
- The payment of any compensation awards made against the member in respect of:
 - o Committing an act of negligence, error or omission
 - o Providing wrongful advice
 - o Breaching confidentiality
 - o Committing libel or slander.

2. Professional advice

Our experienced pharmacists and legal team offer members professional advice on matters of pharmacy law, ethics and professional dilemmas. It is an exciting time for the profession and as the landscape of pharmacy practice changes, our experienced advisors are on hand to help and provide professional guidance and support.

This may be about providing support in the following situations:

- Handling the practicalities in the event of a dispensing error, including how to respond to the investigation of the error
- Providing advice about pharmacists' responsibilities related to patient confidentiality
- What to do in the event that an issue emerges related to safeguarding
- Responding to an employer's potentially unacceptable demands being placed upon a healthcare professional
- Maintaining professional autonomy and upholding legal and ethical considerations
- Providing guidance in the event of an episode which could call into question your fitness to practice.

3. Membership of the PDA Union

A trade union is an organisation which employees (or self-employed workers) join to gain greater security at work. Union membership can provide a greater influence collectively with employers, and more widely within the profession, than workers have as separate individuals.

PDA Union membership includes rights of representation in disputes with employers and certain collective bargaining rights. This means that in serious job-threatening situations, PDA Union officials are able to accompany you to disciplinary meetings with your employer.

4. Training and Development

We provide training and education to support the development of your professional competencies. Courses include those for Pre-Registration trainees, risk management training, and clinical sessions with our training partner MORPh. Our national conference features a range of UK based and international speakers with a focus on working together to involve you in shaping the pharmacy sector and your profession. Together with the GFTU we provide trade union training to help you help other PDA members in your workplace.

5. PDA donates £1 per member to Pharmacist Support

Each year, the PDA donates £1 from the membership fee of every single member to the profession's charity Pharmacist Support.

The PDA is committed to making this contribution to support the work of the charity in assisting pharmacists and their families, former pharmacists, pre-regs and pharmacy students through any challenging times they may face. The charity provides confidential advice and support with issues relating to stress, welfare, addiction and finance.

6. Pro-actively lobbying on your behalf

Defending the reputation and supporting the interests of individual pharmacists involves much more than providing a defence if something goes wrong.

A core aim of the PDA is to proactively seek to influence the professional, ethical and employment agenda to support the interests of individual pharmacists. We are actively involved in lobbying the relevant bodies both within and outside pharmacy to put forward the interests of pharmacists.

7. PDA Plus
